Last chance to register:

Literature Searches on Ovid – Hints & Tips webinar

9th September 2021 – 2:00 pm BST | 9:00 am EDT

We hope you will join us on 9th September 2021 at 2:00 pm BST | 9:00 am EDT to learn more about hints and tips you can use when searching literature on Ovid.

Literature searches are an important part of research projects, especially in the early stages of research. They are a way of searching systematically, comprehensively, and exhaustively. A high-quality literature search will find all relevant literature on the topic. This increases the value and importance of the research, as well as the chances of getting it published in a high impact journal. In today's session we will look at how to construct a literature search on the Ovid platform, including tips and tricks such as specific Ovid commands, and common errors to avoid.

This webinar will be hosted by Charlotte Viken, a Swedish librarian who is now a Senior Consultant in Ovid´s Customer Success Team. In this role, she helps libraries to make the most out of their Ovid resources through trainings, implementations, and customizations.